There is no 'I' in THEY

THEY improv: Improv-ing Teams

THEY improv is the new leader for teambuilding workshops, communication seminars and corporate change, providing new and innovative techniques to achieve grand results. Every event is customized to the group involved, with experienced facilitators adjusting as needed on the spot. Continuing to place emphasis on entertainment as well as education, these events are remembered by participants as a positive experience. THEY improv is quickly generating a reputation for achieving quick results and effective solutions.

Teambuilding

We use a variety of exercises to generate and foster camaraderie among teammates. Through the shared experience and working together in a competitive spirit, teams quickly generate cohesion. Our efforts include building things, scavenger hunts, brainstorming sessions, races, and many other elements to achieve your goals with a maximum of results and enjoyment by participants.

Scavenger Hunt

The THEY improv team will put your team through their paces in an all-out excitement scavenger hunt. Split into teams, each team will be responsible for achieving certain tasks. They will answer questions, perform group activities, show team spirit and have fun. Emphasis will be placed on time management, thinking outside the box, group dynamics and accuracy. By achieving these tasks together, and performing moderately embarrassing activities as a group, teams become united through the experience. Our staff will perform a scouting mission to the operations area and will come up with the clues required for the event. Staff members will be secreted into different locations and the teams will have to find our people to receive their instructions and to be put through exercises.

Communication Seminars

Communication begins with knowing each other. Our efforts at enhancing communication help participants to listen to each other's ideas and to appreciate the possibilities being brought to the table by other participants. A closed mind does not accept ideas, an open mind does. Without accepting ideas, there is no communication. We work through a variety of exercises designed to enhance communication. This includes breaking into teams and generating joint exercises. Such exercises include verbal communication skills, customer service training, marketing sessions, advertising campaigns, and many others. This is all accomplished in an environment designed for enjoyment.

Corporate Change

For companies in transition, we work hard to assist members of your team to understand that embracing change can produce positive results. With a variety of participation exercises and improvisational comedy presentations to display the value and ease with which new ideas can be assimilated, a THEY improv event can ease that transition. Each workshop or event is unique and prices vary based on resource allocation. This includes potentially required equipment, personnel, length of time and preparation.
