THEY improv: Improv-ing Your Events

Providing comedy for corporate events and private parties requires a great deal of adjustment based on the audience involved, the venue and available equipment. THEY improv specializes in understanding the impact of a variety of factors and will discuss with you your situation to make certain that you get the best of entertainment, and that your group will be happy.

We can provide for all of your technical needs, but usually we rely upon the venue to potentially provide a raised stage, lighting and sound equipment. Contact us to get a show of the right length and taking into account your technical needs. Our comedy shows include:

Improv Comedy

THEY improv is the leader in corporate friendly improv comedy shows wherever they go. With an extremely wide variety of formats that will fit almost any venue or audience, THEY improv is the choice for your show. All the comedy is unique, made up on the spot based on audience input.

Our formats can include complete audience participation, or simply spin from one suggestion into a flurry of comedic activity. Similar to TV's Whose Line Is It Anyway?, these shows are audience favorites and provide 'bang for buck'.

Sketch Comedy

THEY improv also leads the way for written comedic material. Utilizing their comedic skills, the writers of THEY improv hone scripts of sketch material to fit your needs. Either as a supplement to an improv comedy show or as a stand-alone, sketch comedy can directly involve characters based on audience members, corporate culture, role-playing scenarios and teach corporate doctrine.

Improv is Magic

THEY improv provides a workshop that trains audience members how to perform simple improvisational comedy games. Then audience members are invited on stage and are directed to perform live comedy in front of the group. Magically regular audience members become comedians before your very eyes. There are a wide range of options in these packages and our director will speak directly to come up with a program to match your needs.

Stand-Up Comedy

A mainstay of comedy is the stand-up comedian. THEY improv can provide either a single comedian or multiple comedians to meet your needs. The cost varies wildly based on the experience of the comedians involved.

The Roast

THEY improv provides professional comedians to either assist in writing comedic material for a roast, or will even roast your people on their own. This requires a lot of personalization, and you should contact us for details.
